

The further information to authors

Dear Author(s):

Attached, please find the sample of the format. You are welcome to submit manuscripts and publish your knowledge spreading in the world under the free publication principle in World Rural Observations. Please read the sample and adjust your format to make the formatted version that is exact same as the sample of the format attached. After you format it, please save it with Microsoft Word (.doc) as the same file name attached in this email, and email me your version as soon as possible. Let us meet in World Rural Observations.

We originally did not charge publication fee for this journal (online). But, as the cost of the online hosting, Internet servicing, editing, handling, etc, it needs some financial support to cover the expense. Currently, the journal (online) is charging the publication fee for US$30/article. If there is problem for you to pay the publication fee, please email me to ask a waiver or a part waiver. The waiver means that you will not pay anything, and the part waiver means that you will pay any part of the US$30 (from US$1 to US$29). You are fully welcome to publish your article in the journal even you need to ask the waiver. The hard copy will be charged US$200/issue to cover the printing and handling cost.
